

Mr. Carlo Cracco receives the 2014 European Hospitality Foundation Award

Rome, 11 April 2014 –The European Hospitality Foundation (EHF), announced today that it has attributed its EHF Awards to Mr. Carlo Cracco for his outstanding contribution to the hospitality industry.

“As President of EHF, I gladly congratulate Mr. Carlo Cracco and thank him for his great representation of the interests of the hospitality industry for many years” said Mr. Nyström, President of the EHF.

“Mr. Cracco is truly passionate about his work and contributed, in a remarkable manner, and for a significant number of years to the activities of the Italian hospitality industry, added Mr. Joan Gaspart, Vice President of EHF.

Carlo Cracco is a leader of the new generation of progressive Italian cuisine. He has attracted worldwide attention at his restaurant in Milan for creative takes on classic Italian foods.

Today Carlo Cracco is the President of the non-profit association Maestro Martino, that aims at contributing to the cultural promotion of Author’s Cuisine, particularly the Lombard one and its excellent territory food products. Moreover, Carlo Cracco is in charge of the Food & Beverage of the new 5 stars Hotel “Palazzo Parigi Hotel and Grand Spa” in Milan where a new gourmet restaurant with his name can be found.

The next EHF award ceremony will take place on 16 October 2014 in Riga, Latvia.
